At collection time, the postal worker opens the post box with a special key.

The letter is posted into a post box.

Next, the postal worker takes all of the letters out of the post box and loads them into the post van.

Last Collection Time

Saturday

This shows the collection time, when the postal worker collects the letters.

A cartoon illustration of a street scene. In the foreground, there is a dark grey road with three white diagonal stripes. A black lamppost with a yellow globe stands on the sidewalk. Behind the road is a brown wall with several small, dark, rectangular marks. In the background, there is a green bush and a blue sky. A red text box is overlaid on the scene.

The post van takes the letters to the sorting office.

Letters are sorted by a machine using postcodes.

Postcodes are a mixture of letters and numbers that tell postal workers which local sorting office to send a letter to.

DD5 4UH is a Dundee postcode

After the letters have been sorted, the postal worker can deliver them to the correct address.
